Funding Lifelong Learning

This is what the San Mateo Public Library Foundation is all about.

In this newsletter, you will read about the many community partners we work with in support of the San Mateo Public Library.

Now more than ever, our community needs a strong library system. These days, thousands of people depend on our Library as a lifeline to look for jobs and improve their skills to be competitive in today's job market. Families and individuals turn to the Library for books, learning tools, entertainment media and resources to help them realize their full potential.

We partner with schools, nonprofit organizations, local businesses, charitable foundations, individuals and community organizations to create optimal learning experiences for everyone in our community.

The San Mateo Public Library Foundation was founded in 1994 to raise funds to support the vital programs and services of the San Mateo Public Library. It creates a margin of excellence for our Library by building private support, enhancing visibility for the Library's impact, and strengthening the public's commitment to a great Library.

The SMPLF and the Library work together in a strong partnership to determine where private funds can be leveraged to have the greatest impact and, at the same time, not supplant the public's responsibility for funding a strong library system. The SMPLF Board of Directors, composed of community volunteers, is a skilled and enthusiastic group that is passionate about the Library's ability to transform lives.

Our Library provides free access for all and a wide range of services to help compensate for our community members' shrinking education and entertainment dollars. The Library is one of the only places offering true free Internet access, which can be a path to employment. With so many people in need of help right now, libraries are safe, nonjudgmental places that, in many ways, have replaced the safety net of social services that has disappeared due to state and local government budget cuts. Libraries make communities thrive!

Fine libraries exist everywhere with public funding, but it is with private support that they flourish. We thank our current partners and invite you to join us in Funding Lifelong Learning in our community.

Clear Optometry: With a passion to help those less fortunate, Joshua, Chloe and Ava Chan started Kid 4 a Kid last year to raise money and focus on giving to other children. Joshua and his sisters hope to inspire other children and families in our community to embrace philanthropy. It's never too early to learn the art of giving.

AcquaPazza: The owner of this local Italian restaurant wanted to give back to the community and our Foundation was selected as the sole beneficiary for a dinner event held on March 31st!

Celebrating Our Many Cultures

The San Mateo Public Library's cultural advisory committees support cultural literacy, build community and promote inclusion through information, education and entertainment. The Library's Asian, Latino, Iranian American and African American Library Advisory Committees sponsor "Cultural Spotlight" events and celebrations throughout the year that celebrate cultural diversity in our community.

DECEMBER 2010

Las Posadas, the popular reenactment of the Christmas story in Latin America, is a holiday favorite for the whole family. The Library's non-religious adaptation includes a candlelight procession, bilingual story time, holiday crafts, mariachi music, pan dulce (Mexican pastries) and hot chocolate.

FEBRUARY 2011

The Library rang in the Chinese New Year (2011 is the Year of the Rabbit) with storytelling and crafts.

African-American History Month was celebrated with a fascinating presentation by Dawn Spears, a Black Americana doll collector.

MARCH 2011

The celebration of Nowruz, the Persian New Year, featured presentations by students, dance and piano performances and traditional refreshments.

BUILDING COMMUNITY THROUGH PARTNERSHIPS

ONE OF THE STRENGTHS of the San Mateo Public Library is the genuine effort to invest in collaborative relationships with schools, nonprofit organizations, businesses, government agencies and other libraries to build community. These efforts have successfully integrated the Library's services in the lives of a broad clientele. Examples are found in every aspect of the Library's services.

SERVICES FOR CHILDREN

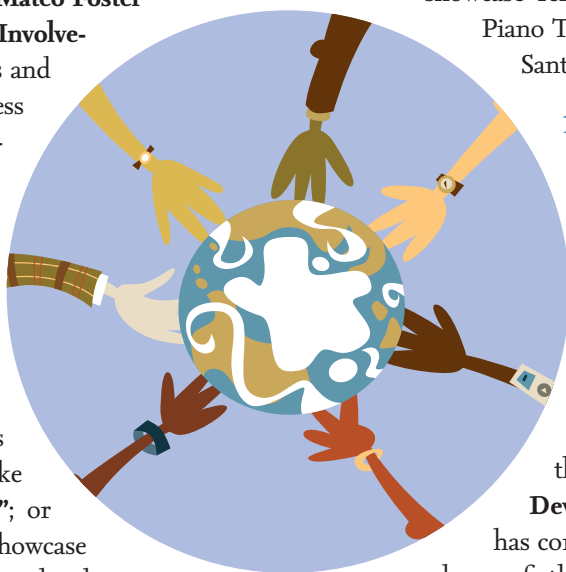

The Library's services to children are now part of the value offered to neighboring organizations like Family Services, Samaritan House and the San Mateo Foster City School District's Parent Involvement Project. Children, parents and caregivers visit the Library to access the many resources and programs for children from pre-school story times to reading programs for older children.

Some partnerships enhance the Library's programs as in the example of the Fatherhood Collaborative of San Mateo County which co-hosts such wonderful programs like "Dad and Me @ the Library"; or Art in Action's exhibits that showcase student art from elementary schools in San Mateo and Hillsborough. The partnership with the Peninsula Humane Society/ SPCA has created the innovative "Paws for Tales" program using therapy dogs to help motivate children who are reluctant readers.

ART & MUSIC

The collaborative venture with CityArts San Mateo illustrates how teen services at the Library have been strengthened through the annual High School art exhibit and recognition program.

The partnership with Music at Kohl Mansion has attracted many music lovers from all age groups to the "Musical Conversations at the Library" and "Family Concerts" that showcase renowned musicians like the Paris Piano Trio, Jon Nakamatsu, and the John Santos Quartet.

BUSINESS & JOB SEEKERS

The Library's Business Collection draws many who want to start a business, optimize their investment portfolio, or attend one of the business workshops that are coordinated through the Small Business Development Center.

Most recently, a partnership with the San Mateo County Workforce Development and PeninsulaWorks has connected many unemployed members of the community to employment opportunities through the various job forums held at the Library. The Library's own volunteer based Job Seekers service assists job hunters to effectively access the Library's employment resources, receive job hunting tips and the much needed moral support.

I am hopeful that such examples have demonstrated to you how the San Mateo Public Library effectively builds community each and every day through partnerships; and how the Library is a relevant destination to many in our community.
